Vol. XXII, No. 2

Campaign Advances Toward Target

Seen at the Program for Excellence kick-off at the School 17 October: John S. Guest; Ted Pilgrim; the Headmaster, Richard A. Bradley; James E. McConnell (31) Chairman of the Board and D. G. 'Bud' Willmot, General Chairman, The Ridley Program for Excellence.

The $5,000,000 Ridley Program for Excellence is setting new records for Canadian independent schools with every contribution it receives. By late December, two-thirds of the goal has been pledged in donations and bequests. Already the total raised is the largest in the history of independent boys' schools in Canada.

"But we still have a long way to go to attain our objective," emphasizes D. G. "Bud" Willmot, Program general chairman.

"Of course, we are pleased with the results so far.

They have fully justified the decision to proceed with a comprehensive long-range plan for Ridley's future. On the other hand, we are well aware that the final third of any campaign is the most difficult to obtain and we are just well into our task at this stage."

More than 40 committees, with nearly 500 volunteer canvassers, are organized from coast to coast in Canada and the United States, in Bermuda, the United Kingdom and the West Indies. Several groups are nearing completion of their calls, while others are just now getting started.

Setting the pace is the Ridley Board of Governors and the Advisory Board, whose members have made personal contributions and bequests exceeding two million dollars.

Others close to the School are responding with equal enthusiasm and generosity. Contributions from the Ridley staff are exceeding all expectations, and the Niagara Peninsula is well on the way to reaching its $100,000 quota.

Further afield, Edmonton already has its $30,000 quota in sight and is aiming for at least 50% more.

The heaviest concentration of activity is in the Toronto area where 10% of the prospective donors so far have produced nearly 15% of its million dollar goal.

Particularly encouraging is the reaction of a number of Canadian corporations that previously had not contributed to independent schools. "I believe we could be on the brink of a real breakthrough with the business community," corporate chairman Denis Love reports. "Our discussions with company executives indicate that the Program for Excellence is believed to be worthy of high priority consideration when allocating the funds available for educational purposes. We know we have a big selling job to do with many companies, but we believe it will soon pay off."

Corporations and others who have become disenchanted with mammoth building projects over the past several years are particularly attracted by the de-emphasis on construction in the Ridley program. Only 10% of the total funds raised will be spent on new buildings, with the remainder available for improvement and maintenance of existing buildings, strengthening of the academic program and increased student aid.

A number of major bequests have been made to endow academic departments or campus buildings in perpetuity. Other gifts and bequests have been designated for continuing support of bursaries or scholarships.

The small folder setting forth the reasons for corporate support points out that parents from many walks of life choose a Ridley education for their sons for these reasons. . .

"... small classes and round-the-clock availability of highly qualified teachers . . . the personal attention required to help each student reach his full potential . . . emphasis on individual accomplishment and the rewards that accomplishment brings . . . encouragement of leadership and involvement.

"Keystone of the School's very existence," the statement continues, "is dedication to the principles of the free enterprise system on which this nation's social, economic and political life has been built. This is the environment in which boys at Ridley develop and grow to manhood and which the School is striving to make available to boys from all sectors of the community."

Many gifts are being pledged over a five year period in order to enable the donor to make a more significant contribution to the campaign.

Around the School

The traditional year names have yielded to the name of progress. To be in line with Ontario Department of Education nomenclature the third form is now Year I (and we have the old IIIrd form in the Upper School this year for the first time in some years); the fourth form is Year II, fifth is Year III, VIB is now Year IV and of course VIA is Year V.

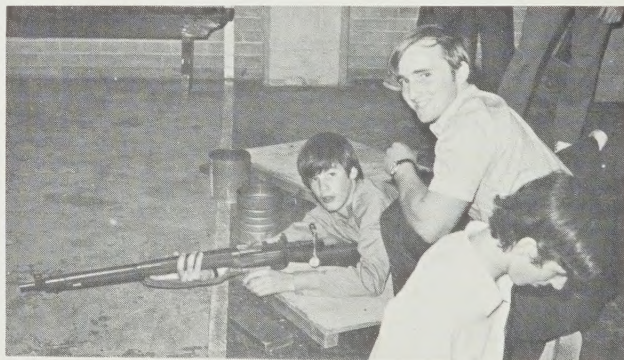

Under Mr. Heuer's direction, a Public Speaking Club has been established and meets regularly to encourage its members in the art of delivering both prepared and extemporaneous speeches. New life is also evident in the Camera Club which has been taken over by Greg Williams, a new Geography master.

Coppinger and the Chaplain have co-ordinated efforts for the social work programme carried on by senior boys in the city. This is one of the school's most effective means of maintaining good relations in St. Catharines. The emphasis is on working with and befriending pupils in the local schools who for emotional or physical reasons are slow learners.

A highly successful dance was held on November 13th in the gymnasium with music provided by 'J. R. Flood', a popular local group.

Election Day (October 21st) found Ridley boys watching the first in this year's Prologue to the Performing Arts series: the National Ballet. We were particularly privileged to have the company's two principal dancers, Veronica Tennant and Hazaros Surmeyan, perform at the school. At a reception following the performance the artists stated that the Ridley audience was by far the most receptive one they had danced before in their tour;

Ridley was the last stop on this tour which took the company to all parts of the province. In the Lent term the series will be completed with visits by the Young People's Theatre and the Canadian Opera.

Paterson III, Nadherny and Willmot ma. on the rifle range.

On the last Sunday in October about eighty boys travelled to Niagara-on-the-Lake to fire FN rifles on the DND ranges. The cadet band and a voluntary platoon marched to the St. Catharines cenotaph for the Remembrance Day service there returned to the School in time for our own service.

An all-out effort was made by the boys and masters of the School under Mr. Frank Hanna during the United Appeal campaign this Fall and a total of $2,055.10 was collected, an amount substantially over the target of $1,500.00.

Prior to the Ontario election all three candidates for the St. Catharines riding appeared at the school to address voluntary assemblies. With some forty boys eligible to vote interest ran high and Bob Johnston, the P.C. incumbent, and his challengers, Jim Bradley for the Liberals and Marv Blauer for the N.D.P. were faced with a wide range of questions. Except for local boys, voting was done by proxy ballot in the home riding of the boys.

The speaker this year at the Cross-Country supper was Sam Griffith (35). Staff wives were present on this pleasant occasion and the black-tie dress regulation relaxed except for the Head Table. With the number of speeches reduced to five the entire evening was conducted smoothly and efficiently and the boys still had an opportunity to get some evening study done.

Early in the term some forty-one senior boys helped the St. Catharines Transit Commission conduct its first in-depth passenger count survey. This involved riding on buses in all parts of the city and counting passengers as they entered and left the buses.

The captain of Football this year was Fisher; Twidle was captain of Soccer and McClelland I of the Harriers. School prefects are: Bennett, Browne, Fisher, Gamble, Holliday, Iggulden, Kenny, Kling, Lawrence, Randall, Sabia, Slemon ma, Szczucinski ma, Tooton and Twidle.

On Sunday, December 5th the Choir travelled to St. Marks Episcopal Church at Orchard Park, outside Buffalo, N.Y. where they performed a regular School matins service with the addition of two Advent carols. Following the service, three area Old Boys very generously provided lunch for the choir at the Orchard Park Country Club.

The annual Carol Services were held on the last Sunday of term; with improved weather conditions this year a large number of Old Boys, Parents and friends of the School turned out for the two services which featured the reading of the traditional lessons by boys and masters and a varied selection of familiar and new carols sung by the choir. The choirmaster, John Butler, and his assistant, Dean Cooper, had prepared the choir well for this strenuous programme.

The first of this year's Bishop Ridley Lectures was held on Thursday, December 2nd when Mr. Justice Brook of the Supreme Court of Ontario spoke on Law and the Practice of Law in Canada Today.

The winner of the House Debates (junior forms) was Arthur Bishop House. The two boys who received the trophy from Mr. Maurice Cooke, housemaster of last year's winners, were Szczucinski mi. and McGuire.

Campaign Note

THE W. E. N. BELL MEMORIAL FUND is being launched in January to honour a great Ridleian who was one of this country's finest athletes, a student, a master and long time member of the Board of Ridley. The fund will be used to establish and endow a sports field, to be named 'Bell Field'. Until the Fund reaches the amount required for this purpose and the field can be completed, income from the Fund will be used to defray games expenses accrued by the School.

Contributions towards the Fund are being sought among Billy Bell's many friends outside the Ridley family, and some Ridleians may wish to designate all or part of their Program for Excellence contributions for this purpose.

Ridley Football 1971

When I started coaching football at Ridley six years ago, I remember somebody telling me that high school athletes were as unpredictable as the weather. Ridley's loss to Upper Canada College on October 23rd proved the validity of this statement. We had by far the best team but somehow on this one particular day we couldn't put it together to gain this victory needed for the Independent School Championship.

Apart from this one disappointment, the 1971 version of the Ridley First team played with the same spirit and drive which has been characteristic of Ridley College football teams for years. Ably captained by Fisher and assisted by Doolittle and MacLachlan, the team won six games against one loss. With 5 old colours from last year's championship team, we had a good group of Under-Sixteen and Second team graduates, as well as some new boys who contributed much to the success of the team this year.

When training camp started in September, both Mr. Bob Stanley and I felt optimistic about the potential. Four of our linemen had been rowing for most of the preceding year and were in excellent physical shape. Bob had some potentially fast and enthusiastic halfbacks and quarterbacks with which to work. The record of the team proved that our optimism was not unfounded.

Football at Ridley, however, is not confined to 'A' Squad alone. We depend upon the well coached graduates of the Second and Under Sixteen teams; therefore Mr. Dave Mackey and Mr. Ken Chipman, the coaches of the Under Sixteen team and Mr. Carl Dorland and Mr. Keith Mawhinney who coach the Second team should not go unmentioned in this football report.

My thanks are extended to these coaches, to the players and the supporters of Ridley College football in 1971.

Lower School Notes

It seems impossible that another term has sped its course. This the longest, and perhaps most difficult, term is now history. Eighty-five new boys — a new record I think, joined the sixty-eight old boys in September. After the first weeks of adjustment, most seemed to have made the transition without too many traumatic experiences.

Joining the new boys this year were two new masters, Mr. Dean Cooper and Mr. Barry Spence. Mr. Cooper, a native of New York City, has taken over the duties of Lower School Music Master. He is a graduate of Oberlin College.

Mr. Spence comes to us from New Zealand. He is a graduate of Victoria University of Wellington. For the past few years he has been teaching in France and England and is teaching French, Latin, English and Science. He is an avid sportsman and is particularly interested in rugby and cricket.

Strategy conference: Bob Stanley and Brian Armstrong, the First football team coaches.

Football and soccer started as soon as term began. The numbers playing football were very small and so only two teams were run. The Firsts were outgunned for most of the season but although they won few games, showed marked improvement throughout the season. Mackenzie, Orr and Bunston led the team to its most satisfying win — this was a 1-0 score against a strong S.A.C. team.

B Squad was organized into a three team league this year and the second team was selected from that league. Led by Hambly and Paterson they split their four games. There were a number of promising players on this team and should provide a source of talent for next year's firsts.

The soccer teams had singularly successful seasons. Over 100 boys opted for this ever-increasing popular sport. The first team did not lose a match and tied only one. They played skilful, exciting soccer and their play was a pleasure to watch. Of international make-up, there were players from Canada, England, the United States, Mexico, Venezuela and Bermuda — Mr. Cosgrove was often forced to use an interpreter. In a team that was so well-balanced, it is difficult to single out individuals. Josselyn played goal; the fullbacks were Knight ma., Hunt and Bullied; the half line consisted of Fowle, Ehrenberg ma., and Menna; and the forward line included Mainwaring (Capt.), Coffin ma., Hanel, Goodman, Aristeguieta ma. and Rodriguez ma.

The seconds also had a successful season. Led by Prudhomme, Stein, Chapman ma., and Rodriguez I, they lost only two of their eleven matches. Similarly the thirds, led by Faes, Brohman and Knight mi. won most of their games. The Fourths and Fifths may not have fared as well but there is talent there that can be tapped in the future.

It should also be noted that the Senior League won two of its three matches against Appleby.

The Cross Country was won this year by Greenshields and he was followed by Sharpe and Post.

Other activities were also in full swing this year. The Photography, Stamp and Chess Clubs are meeting regularly. There have been cook-outs in the court yard and Common Room sing songs and trips to all parts of the area.

Messrs. Smy and Cosgrove took Grades 6 and 7 to Midland to see Ste. Marie Among the Hurons. A trip was taken to see the Air Show at the St. Catharines Flying Club. The Lion Safari was visited by a number of boys, as was the Welland Canal.

At the beginning of term, we were asked by the St. Catharines Transit Commission to take part in a traffic survey. The boys rode the buses and noted the number of people getting on or off the bus at each stop. The money the boys made was given to the Ridley College Fund, and we are grateful to the boys who donated their time (especially since many sacrificed class time to do it!)

A major gift to the Lower School has proved extremely useful this year. A 15 passenger bus was given to the School by a parent and this has had almost continual use since its arrival in October. This gift is greatly appreciated by all members of the Lower School and has enabled us to take many of the trips outlined earlier.

This bus is also useful in our program of outdoor activities. We are still attempting to find a suitable location to buy some property for this endeavour. One group went camping overnight at the local Scout Camp and this proved extremely successful except that Craik and Oakes were afraid to go back to their tents after spending hours telling ghost stories. (It should be noted that Mr. Smy did not break a leg or put his car in a ditch!) This is a worthwhile program and will be continued.

There have been visits to plays, a worthwhile visit by the Theatre of Performing Arts and other extra-curricular activities. The drama groups are expanding their programs and half the School seems to be walking around the halls blowing their flute-aphones.

In all then, it has been a busy term but in most respects, a happy and successful one.

Nobles - Milton Hockey Tournament

The First hockey team competed in the seventh annual hockey tournament held at Dedham, Mass. on December 17th and 18th.

Playing against Kent School, Conn. in the first round, the team was defeated 4-1. Sussex scored the lone Ridley goal. All first round losers played in the Consolation event and the School won this series by defeating a selected Schools team from Los Angeles, Calif. 5-1 and then Deerfield Academy, Mass. 3-2. McKague, Szczucinski ma., Gilroy mi., Laing and Brunton scored goals in the Los Angeles game. Szczucinski ma., Iggulden and Brunton were the marksmen against Deerfield.

The Tournament committee named an all star team selected from the eight Schools competing and McIntosh ma. was selected as number one goal tender. Hotchkiss School won the championship defeating Kent in the final match. Other schools competing were: Milton Academy, Mass., Noble and Grenough School, Mass. and Blake School, Minn.

Governors Meet

The annual meeting of the Board of Governors was held at the School on Tuesday, December 7th.

James E. McConnell (31) was re-elected President and Chairman of the Board of Governors. S. M. Irwin (46), H. T. Mandeville (40), Peter MacLachlan (42) and R. W. Stevens (44) continue as Vice-Presidents. At the meeting, the following new Board members were elected:

Henry M. Beaumont (50)	Calgary, Alta.
Dr. John R. Grace (61)	Montreal, Que.
Ian J. Reid (44)	St. John's Nfld.

Dr. Robin S. Harris (36) who retired from the Board of Governors has been appointed to the Advisory Council.

Scholarships

The Scholarship Program at Ridley has two motives. First, it is to provide an opportunity of a Ridley education for clever boys, who might not otherwise afford it, but second, it is to provide the School with an intelligent group who will set high standards of academic distinction. Scholars tend also to provide leadership in the artistic and cultural life at the School. Ridley, for its own welfare, wishes to attract scholars to the School. Members of the Ridley family are urged to bring this opportunity to the notice of any possible candidates.

Scholarships, up to a value of $2,300 for a single candidate, are awarded annually. Examinations for candidates entering Grades 7 through 10 next fall will be written on Friday, Feb. 25th, 1972.

William Ridout Wadsworth

Ridley lost its oldest Old Boy, Ontario its oldest practicing lawyer and Northern Ontario one of its greatest names in mining development when Billy Wadsworth died in his 96th year on 29 August, 1971, in Toronto.

Billy attended Ridley in 1890-93, after a few years spent at Upper Canada College. At Ridley he was a member of the First football and cricket teams, a founder of the Canoe Club and a Prefect for two years. Moreover, he won the Blake Gold Manliness Medal, the Governor-General's Gold Medal, the Merritt Gold Medal and the Bishop Strachan Prize in Moderns and Mathematics for entrance to Trinity College.

He graduated from the University of Toronto in 1896, from Osgoode Hall three years later and he was appointed a K.C. in 1928. While at university he was prominent in football. For ten years he was captain of the Argonaut Rowing Club. He was in the championship fours and eights, and in 1904 was in the Olympic eight at St. Louis, Missouri.

He was a founder of the Ridley College Old Boys' Association, its President in 1900-01 and a Life Member.

His law practice was at the forefront of the Cobalt mining boom. At one time, he had sixty employees in his Toronto office, branch offices in Gowganda, Haileybury and Elk Lake and so many cases before the Privy Council that he could barely keep track of them. His last appearance as a lawyer in court occurred in October, 1970.

As a young man he explored by canoe the almost unknown country north of North Bay, south of the height of land — Lakes Timiskaming, Timagami and Cobalt, the Montreal River, and so on. About these trips, and sport in general, he wrote numerous articles and stories that appeared in magazines far and wide.

Billy was the very essence of modesty and of consideration for others. He was an outstanding example of what makes the "full man", an example that is a worthy one for boys, and young men, to-day to follow. His death leaves a great gap in the world of Ridley, particularly for those who had the privilege of knowing him.

The Greening of Ridley or Our Future Shock

To write of an institution that has been the focus of one's life for seven years is not an easy thing. Opinions become a kaleidoscope of nostalgia and frustration, while loyalties and interests veer away from the orange and black with the coming of maturity and sophistication.

What is Ridley but a looking glass into the society it serves? It is, then, beset with the complex problems of North American life: problems that not the greatest of our political and philosophic leaders seem capable of solving. More simply, 'the Ridley family', as the oft-used phrase goes, must be realistic as to the potentialities of this institution. To believe that given the opportunity to do good, all men will, is completely erroneous. Bay Street is a pretty good example of that!

The 'family' does the School a great disservice if it maintains a belief that Ridleians are somehow superior to the rest of humanity. They must be directed and often dragged along the paths of righteousness. Adolescence at Ridley as elsewhere holds contempt for discipline of any kind, regardless of the new 'week-end' philosophy.

The philosophy further dramatizes the challenge that now faces us. Are we as students to be led along the path of routine life in the great and glorious expectation of that overnight in Toronto? Are we to live from overnight to overnight, and in the process wish our lives away? I would say, in the loudest and most reverberating of tones: certainly not!

Life at the School reflects the changing values of North American life. What the School must endeavour to do is to produce civilized men. Today's society has a respect for rounded characters; the humanities, the sciences, the arts and athletics all form an integral part of the modern man. In today's world information is no longer an academic goal. Wisdom is now extolled from the rooftops of the academies.

Prefects Holliday, Szczucinski ma., Kenny and Sabia seen on Opening Day.

Ridley must gear itself to the new criteria. If it does not attempt to occupy the vanguard of his quest for wisdom, all the Ridley Programs for Excellence that the Board wishes to launch will fall disastrously into the sterile chasm of antiquated improvements. Ridley will become an excellent school of the 1950's and in 1980 that will not mean very much at all.

Enough theorizing; leaving 'the fifth dimension', this author arrives in the more opaque dimension of Ridley life. How is BRC in its present reality to achieve goals that now seem so unattainable? The transformation of a school is not something to be achieved overnight.

Image and reality are clearly interrelated. What is the present image of Ridley? It is hard not to believe that Ridley is currently most famous for the achievements of its oarsmen (unparalleled achievements, they are). But is this desirable? Rowing, or any sport, is only a part of Ridley; and the danger is that sporting triumphs tend to become their own justification both within and without the School. This is not an intentional condemnation of oarsmen, but rather it is to say that activities alone do not ready a man for the greater race of the outside world.

Boarding schools present a rare opportunity for educational experiences. It is not nearly so easy in a public school to bring force to bear on the student body. Ridley, given its connections, should be able to present its students with a varied roster of guest speakers from Russ Jackson to Bill Davis to William Hutt: men (and women) who would teach Ridleians a wisdom that the classroom can never provide. If at the start these lectures must be compulsory, then I boldly say, so be it. Dramatics, public speaking, creative writing, art and debating should gain a much higher priority. Decrees should come from 'on high' making way for these activities. The powers that be must at least attempt to give Fulford Cup debates the same importance they have achieved at T.C.S.

Priorities of time and money tell the tale of the makers behind them. They need, more than ever to be re-examined at the present time.

Yes, well may we sing: "Come fill your glasses up,
Come fill the living cup . . ."

But, to what?

M. J. Sabia.

"Oktoberfest Versammlung"

The Grand Valley Branch of the Women's Guild held a most enjoyable and successful Scholarship fund raising party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Witzel on October 13th in Waterloo, Ont.

Some of the local Old Boys were asked to donate a product for the purpose of raffles and auctions. This they did willingly and in a most generous way. Mr. John Guest and Mr. David Cosgrove proved to be most entertaining and effective 'auctioneers'. The Ladies of the Guild donated the Oktoberfest souvenirs (steins and hats) and sold them during the evening as well.

German food, home cooked and delicious, was enjoyed by all as were gallons of Oktoberfest beer.

Many thanks to those who attended. Thanks to the generosity of the Old Boys' donations. Especially thanks to Ted and Mary Witzel for opening their home and hearts for the cause of Ridley!

This event will be held annually — bigger and better each year as the wrinkles are ironed out.

Keep the 2nd week of October reserved on your calendars to attend this event — and for Heaven's sake Ridleians, answer the invitation promptly — it means so much to those in charge.

Ein Prosit der Gemütlichkeit!

Mrs. K.L.A.

Campaign Note

THE LUNCHEON CIRCUIT is paying off for Dave McBride (51) who finds this a good means to get together with former classmates to discuss old times and the Program Excellence . . . "It costs a little extra lunch money, but it's worth it," Dave says. "I'm convinced that the only effective way to canvass is in person and as we both have to eat, meeting for lunch saves time for both me and the prospect." From the results to date, Dave would recommend the luncheon route to anyone.

First Team Soccer

This year was unfortunately a very disappointing one for the First Soccer team. A team that started out its season with a rush, showing to advantage the potential of some of its players, ended the season with a whimper having won only two games in the intervening period. However, some good soccer was played and bad luck perhaps accounted for some of the losses; but the major problem was a specter of discord hanging over the team and an extraordinary number of gatings causing players to miss games. Some players too were under the impression they were so 'tricky' that they could afford not to practise and keep in shape, but of course this turned out to be not so at critical moments.

However, individual members of the team did play well over the season and put everything they had into their playing; the younger of these players show much promise for coming years of soccer at Ridley.

Staff Notes

Professor DAVID S. FENSOM (ex-staff) and father of Charles H. (67), head of the Department of Biology at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., recently delivered one of the Chancellor's Lectures at Brock University, St. Catharines, Ontario under the title 'Sows' Ears and Silk Purses'.

ROSS MORROW, Head of the English Department, has been appointed Programme Chairman for the Conference of Secondary School English Department Chairmen convention in November 1972 in Minneapolis. He delivered a paper on 'In-service Training Strategies for Department Chairmen' at the annual convention held in Las Vegas in November.

KARSTEN HEUER who joined the English Department this Fall has decided he must return to Scotland at Christmas to assist his mother whose husband died in late October. As a soccer coach and enthusiastic booster of conversational German and public speaking as well as a highly competent teacher he had made considerable impact during his single term with us.

ALAN YOUNGSON (ex-staff) has been appointed Assistant Dean of Students at Brock University and Artistic Director of the Press Theatre.

Association Week End

A very foggy morning greeted us at the School on Saturday October 17th. However, the incoming Old Boys and parents must have caused the fog to lift because by noon, we had a glorious day although unseasonably warm.

On Friday evening, the classes of 1946 (25th) and 1961 (10th) held their own reunion gatherings. The Oban Inn was the centre of attraction for the class of 1946 and their wives and from all reports it was a long and enjoyable evening. The younger fellows from 1961 and their wives gathered at the Leonard Motor Inn. Both groups looked a little wan and tired Saturday morning.

Saturday also saw a goodly number of the classes of 1930 and 1931 attend the first of our 40th year reunions. All seemed to enjoy themselves and Bryan Upjohn is to be thanked for his efforts in this regard. Allister M. MacIver-Campbell (30) of Encino, California returned for the first time in almost forty years and was the Old Boy who travelled the greatest distance to attend.

Our new Headmaster, Richard A. Bradley, symbolically arrived at the School immediately prior to the football game. In keeping with modern day practice, he dropped from the skies in mortarboard and gown via helicopter, escorted by Tim H. Rigby (60) Chairman of the Niagara Peninsula branch of the Association. He was officially welcomed by James E. McConnell, Chairman of the Board of Governors, Laddie Cassels (13) John S. Guest, Headmaster of the Lower School and David R. Wilson, acting Assistant Headmaster of the Upper School. Mr. Bradley then performed the ceremonial kick-off in fine rugby style.

The Week End was chosen to be the focal point for the official beginning of the Ridley Program for Excellence campaign. Following a beef barbecue luncheon and an excellent dinner in the Great Hall the General Chairman of the Campaign, D. G. 'Bud' Willmot, spoke to all in attendance explaining the need for the campaign and the way in which the funds will be expended (mainly going into the endowment fund with only 10 percent being used for new facilities.) Mr. Willmot stated that over 50 percent of the Campaign total of $5,000,000 has already been contributed by advance giving, a tremendous start for the campaign. From the response of those present to Mr. Willmot's remarks it appears that there will be enthusiastic support for the Campaign.

'Co'

Also at the Saturday dinner, tribute was paid to Major Robert S. 'Co' Cockburn in recognition of fifty years of loyal and devoted service to the School. 'Co' is now in his fifty-first year at Ridley and still going strong. Alan S. Jarvis, President of the Association, presented 'Co' with a lovely silver pipe ash tray on behalf of all members.

Sunday saw a great many of those attending the Week End at the Chapel Service followed by the ever popular sherry party at the Guests and the buffet luncheon which was held in the Lower School dining room this year.

Our thanks to Tim Rigby (60) and John Bartlett (53) of the Peninsula branch and their many helpers who were really responsible for looking after the many details that made the Week End a success.

The late afternoon saw most of those who had been with us leave for their homes. As always we at the School enjoyed having you with us and we hope that you and many more will be present next year.

Ridley Patriarch

We would like to inform our readers that our records show the senior Old Boy of the School is now Charles E. H. Bourne (98). According to all reports, he is enjoying retirement and is living at 8005 Avon Road, Apartment 2, in Montreal, Quebec. Charles attended Ridley from April 1893 until 1897. While at Ridley, he was a member of the First cricket team and a writer for Acta Ridleiana. Our best wishes are extended to you, sir.

Toronto Women's Guild Parents Cocktail Party

The Toronto Women's Guild held a very successful cocktail party to which all Toronto Parents were invited on the evening of Wednesday, 17 November. The party was held at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Denis H. Love.

Over 120 attended including 14 new parent couples and a very good number of staff members and their wives.

Mrs. W. O. Randall, president, was very pleased with the turnout and hopes it will become an annual event. Certainly all who attended enjoyed themselves and it was a wonderful opportunity for the parents to talk with the many staff members present.

Campaign Note

REQUESTS ARE BEING MADE or considered by a number of Ridleians, and many committees are hoping to at least match their cash and pledged contributions with an equal total in legacies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Henn

Betty Henn passed away suddenly in hospital in St. Catharines on 17 November, 1971. Her loss was deeply felt at the School.

She had been Matron of the Lower School since 1955. As such, she devoted most of her life to the welfare of the boys, and of the adults, who live there. In 1966, when a catering-firm took over most of the School's domestic services, she became Matron of Ridley, but her work and major interests continued largely to be in the Lower School.

A memorial service for her, following cremation, was held in the Chapel on the afternoon of 19 November, 1971. She is survived by a sister in each of England and Scotland, and by her sons, Christopher (62), Palma de Mallorca, Spain, and Gregory (66), Barrie, Ontario. To them, we offer the deepest sympathy of all at Ridley.

We quote, briefly and at random, further from the pages of 'Reminiscences' that appear in the Christmas, 1939, issue of ACTA RIDLEIANA as follows:

1889-1890 — Ridley had its first fire, on the top flat of the old Springbank Hotel. It was small, but one boy became very excited. He rushed down the hall with the water-pitcher from his cubicle. He spilt the water in the hall, rushed into the Study, collided with the Principal, heaved the pitcher at the fire and yelled, 'Keep cool, everyone, keep cool.'

1903-1912 — The old St. Patrick's Day scraps . . . baseball with Nan on first . . . the heavyweight bout between Laddie and Windy . . . the New Boys' Concerts . . . gauntlets . . . the windmill and the out-door swimming-pool . . . the new Gym, 1910.

1913 — It was a Sixth Form privilege to wear an orange-and-black fez.

1914 — The S.A.C. football team's 1,000 pound buck . . . August 4th.

1915 — The School Farm was in flourishing condition.

1916 — Twelve of the Sixth Form went directly from school into uniform . . . Tom Lennard kicked nine field-goals (drop-kicks—Ed.) against T.C.S. at Varsity Stadium—six in play and three converts.

1917 — The sham-battle at the Inspection—blank cartridges and fire crackers . . . Friday evening Pathescope movies, with musical accompaniment by a master on the organ.

1918 — The Pest House was open just in time for the great 'flu epidemic . . . the false Armistice on 7 November, and the real one on the 11th—whistles and the school-bell at 5 a.m.; Cadet Corps parade to town; whole holiday.

1919 — Skating on the Blue Pond (below Dean's House—Ed.) . . . the inspection of the Cadet Corps by the Prince of Wales at the C.N.R. Station.

1920 — Cook vs Stringer in front of the rink, with Mr. Ashburner as referee . . . the Sixth Form only could wear soft-collars; the Lower School wore Eton-collars outside their jackets.

A New Broom

A weekly column, written by Bennett, a School Prefect, has made its appearance in the St. Catharines Standard. Entitled 'Collegiate Corner' it deals with all aspects of life around the school. We present here Bennett's interpretation of the Headmaster's new approach to School rules, as it appeared in The Standard.

At a School assembly recently Mr. Bradley announced a number of rule changes. He also gave a progress report on his new system of rules and discipline, and his personal philosophy on the direction which he thinks the school should take. Basically, it involves a feeling of mutual trust between staff and boys, and the belief that freedoms and responsibilities are a privilege rather than a right. The rule changes announced were a system of demerit points for minor offences which are cumulative. A second change involved the length of hair. Provided it is neat, and out of the eyes, hair can now grow to the bottom of the ears and onto the collar at the back.

Mr. Bradley announced his proposed set of rules would come into effect after mid-term. The rules emphasize three things: the value of honesty, the need for hard work and commitment, and the need to acquire an individual sense of responsibility. To this end he has tried to avoid two prevailing ideas: automatic punishment for a given offence without regard to the circumstances and, secondly, that good discipline depends upon absolute conformity.

There are three areas of change outlined in the regulations. The first concerns academic standards. To keep boys aware of their progress, effort grades will be assigned every three weeks. These are based entirely on effort and attitude, not upon ability. They run on a scale of 1 (excellent) to 4 (unsatisfactory). If work is unsatisfactory, privileges (such as overnight leaves) are taken away.

The second change involves supervision. The study hall has been eliminated and all boys will study in the Matthews Library during spare periods with the exception of Year Four and Five who may study in their rooms. Supervised study in the Hall has been replaced by boys in the lower forms studying in dorms and house libraries. In addition, Year Five students may apply for evening leave (up to a maximum of two per week) during evening study on any weekday.

The third change, probably the most welcomed, is concerned with drinking. In future, any boy over 18 years of age, with parental permission may exercise his legal right to drink while on leave. Stiffer penalties are in store for anyone caught drinking in the school. Drinking under age will also be a serious offence.

Campaign Note

THE CLASS OF '58 has set itself an ambitious objective: to equip one of the new labs in the Library-Resource Centre complex . . . Contributions by Class members to the Program for Excellence are being credited both to the branches from which they come and the special lab fund . . . Spearheading the effort is Class Chairman Tom Kinnear.

Harriers

"I've just come up out of the sunken lane, kneed and elbowed, thumped and bramble-scratched, and the race is two-thirds over . . . you just trot on with your slippers slapping the good dry soil that at least would never do you a bad turn . . ."

Alan Sillitoe in "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner."

Harriers, the sport of the few, and the brief attempt of the many in the form of the Cross-country races, came to a close this year with one of the most successful records the team has yet witnessed.

In previous years the team has endured terrain bound by ravine, hill, ridge and cliff on the seemingly never-ending search for the finish-line . . . this year, much to everyone's bewilderment and with a little bit of effort and an immeasurable amount of spirit, they found it. This finish-line appeared in the form of the All-Ontario Cross Country meet held at Woodbridge on Saturday, November 6th. Despite a strenuous encounter with the best of the long distance runners from across the province, the Senior team managed to do reasonably well. No prizes were won by Ridley, but it was a fitting climax to our season that we reached this All-Ontario final. A fitting tribute it was too to the excellent and dedicated coaching of Mr. John Silver who has worked so hard and so effectively to bring the team to this pinnacle.

All three first-place winners in the Cross-Country this year were members of the Harriers team: Hendrie in the Junior division, Pilgrim in the Intermediate and McClelland I in the Senior. The day of the race was miserable and rainy; it was surprising that McClelland managed to set a new record in the senior race. With participation in the races counting for points in Bermuda Cup competition, interest was very high indeed.

Dramatics at Ridley

The School Play has come and gone, but I think this annual 'production' raises a number of important questions. Some years ago, when the boys of the School had very limited leaves, an occasion such as the evening of the play was considered a major event in the School year. Now when even the lower form boys seem to have a handsome supply of leaves the sense of occasion is somehow lacking.

Certainly the major production does give a number of boys a chance to strut their stuff before admiring parents and highly critical peers. But is the amount of work involved, not to mention the expense, justified if a more satisfactory dramatics programme could be effected? This year's production, 'The Mundy Scheme', fortunately did not require any big effects in the technical department, but even so a two hundred dollar lighting bill was run up for the rental of necessary equipment. The gym has never been satisfactory from an acoustical point of view and the vast reaches of the stage make set construction and furnishing a difficult job indeed.

For the past several years the members of the Peninsula Branch of the Ridley College Women's Guild have been most generous in their support of the Dramatic Society in providing a marvellous buffet supper prior to the play for local parents of boys involved in the play. This happy arrangement has certainly helped to provide good houses for the play and this support is most encouraging each year. However, perhaps the School should turn away from the big production towards a series of small-scale, almost workshop presentations, in the Assembly Hall, so that the problems connected with the gym could be avoided. With some structural changes the Assembly Hall could be more than adequate and now that evening study is no longer held there it would be readily available for rehearsal time; fitting in rehearsal time along with the heavy demands on the gym has never been easy. Many plays, if presented without admission charge, are free of royalty payment and certainly production costs could be held to a minimum.

The dramatics programme has been expanded in recent years to include a one-act play for festival competition in the Niagara District; Lawrence succeeded in winning the Best Actor award in last year's festival and Mr. Alan Youngson's production of 'The Dumb Waiter' was highly praised. Competition is always keen too for the Inter-House play competition held early in the Trinity Term; the facilities of the Assembly Hall have been found adequate for these presentations.

Rapoport, Bennett and Dorland in a scene from 'The Mundy Scheme' this year's School play.

Interest in drama at Ridley is fortunately high; already an ambitious boy is pressing for a production of 'Arsenic and Old Lace' with student direction, production etc., during the Lent term. Such enthusiasm can be put to good use if we are realistic in the use of our talents and facilities. With a modest amount of effort the Assembly Hall could be used for such an endeavour and would prove most satisfactory.

Campaign Note

ROVING AMBASSADOR TED PILGRIM has been on the road almost constantly since early October, visiting Buffalo, Montreal, Ottawa, Sudbury, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Windsor, London and Halifax. He reports great enthusiasm for the Program in all areas.

Sixty Years On

'Afar and asunder' yes, 'forgetfully wonder' no. Old memories are sometimes clearer than what happened last year. I had about five years at Ridley and not having had other experience to compare those years with, accept the idea that they were good. Chapel twice a day, church three times on Sunday gave me the excuse that having built up such a great credit that I rarely go to church but retain the basic faith learned well.

Names of masters pop up — Mickey Flynn, dapper and tyrannical; beloved Ernie Powell carving at dinner, his usual question 'Dish-gravy anyone' was followed by a clatter of twenty plates. His throat sound cannot be described by any spelled out word, it was loud, raspy, not pleasant. No one could copy it. He was a respected Lincolnesque figure. Others were "Mark" Hanna, languages, no scholar but adequate for the teaching of 15 year olds. 'Sis' Hooper, Greek and Latin, a scholar of top rank but as his nickname suggests not in complete control of his pupils. So many others, but my memories and opinions are superfluous. One stand-out though was 'Dobbie' Dobson, an Oxford Blue. He left in the fall of 1914 and as Major Dobson was killed. One night in study behind an atlas I was reading David Copperfield. I laughed. Dobbie, 'What are you laughing at?' Me, 'I thought Madagascar was a funny word'. Dobbie, 'Whenever was Micawber in Madagascar?' How did he do it! 'The Red' our football coach then, when tackling we were told to dive, leave our feet, get them around the ankle. It worked and we won the Little Big Four Championship that year. Col. Thairs the school accountant and instructor of the Cadet Corps. In 1912 we went to the Canadian National Exhibition with cadets from all over the Empire. We won something, a gymnastics display I think. One day we were hosts on the three-masted yacht of one of our number with the Eton College and Australian Cadets; we all spoke English but did not understand each other. I hazard a guess that as Guards Officers none of the Etonians reached their majority.

Many of the lads come to mind but I'll just take two extremes. The Leaycraft twins, big boys immaculately turned out. They were related to the Roosevelts, Oyster Bay not Hyde Park. Instead of being sent to Groton they were obviously sent to Canada's best prep School. They were very well-bred, gentle creatures, and their lives were continually bedevilled. Any kind word or gesture they awarded with gratitude.

Quite another person from the States was Mickey van Rennsler van Tassell Schuyler Irvine. Smallish, a top student (I think he was a Mason Medal winner) handsome, good bowler, quarterback. He was the one I admired most. He came back to Canada in 1915 from college in the States; he came to help and did and died at Passchendaele.

A winter chore I remember, not forced labor exactly or fagging, just as a third form member with two others, of an enterprise run by two seniors. It required an inspection very early on bitterly cold winter mornings of a number of muskrat traps set out by our directors along the banks of the old Welland Canal. We would collect several very dead, frozen stiff rats and take them to the hidden shack of the master minds. They cleaned them and got 15 cents each for them; at the end of the season we each got a milk-shake ticket. Needless to say one of the entrepreneurs became the head of one of Canada's leading utility companies.

A few fortunates on Sunday afternoon were invited to tea by one of the St. Catharines belles (Lizette, Marian, Bessie, Woody). The use of their first names does not mean that I knew them well, but I did go on a rare occasion. There was also occasionally on Sunday afternoon another invitation for crumpets and a "cuppa tay" from Mrs. Joe who lived on the top of Dean's House. Joe was the furnace and handyman, a Yorkshireman. The attraction was their niece Hattie. A delicate slip of a Yorkshire lass with flaxen hair, turquoise eyes and a face like a tea rose. In our 15-16 year old eyes she was the Maid of Astolat. Under the aegis of Mrs. Joe she was well protected in our all male nunnery. Her presence was appreciated and beneficent; her duties as a tweenie in the kitchen exemplary and although completely innocent in all her actions she was not unaware of her ambience. I think many a septuagenarian who has long since forgotten the name of his first date to a Ridley annual dance will remember the name Hattie.

Anon.
